Together with the Chinese Historical Society of New England,

we’re in good company.
2019 Sojourner Awards

The early Chinese immigrant pioneers were typically sojourners—workers looking for a piece of the Gold Mountain to take back to China to help their families. Many faced conditions of racism, exclusion and economic exploitation, even as they helped transform America by building railroads, establishing fisheries, harvesting crops, and producing in factories. Our place today in this society rests, in part, on their legacy. It is in memory of their unrecognized struggles and profound contributions that we offer the Sojourner Award.

The Chinese Historical Society of New England (CHSNE) was established in 1992 to document, preserve, and promote the history and legacy of Chinese immigration to New England.

Statement of Mission
Adopted on March 12, 1992

To document, preserve and promote the history of Chinese immigration and legacy in New England

To collect, preserve and display artifacts, oral and printed materials, and other manifestations of Chinese-American legacy;

To study, interpret and share the contributions of the Chinese in New England to American Society;

To educate the public and enhance intercultural understanding of the Chinese-American community;

To identify, commemorate and preserve locales, structures, and places of historical significance to the development of the Chinese-American community;

To pursue innovative financial and technical means for historical rehabilitation and reuse relevant to or for the benefit of the Chinese-American community;

To establish a headquarters and network to house, exhibit, publish and produce works, cultural artifacts and other suitable media documenting and representing the experience of Chinese in New England; and

To collaborate with other entities, locally and nationally, in pursuing similar missions and objectives.
Congratulations to the Chinese Historical Society of New England for 27 years of promoting the tremendous accomplishments of Chinese immigrants in New England and beyond.

Thanks to Sojourner Award honorees Helen Chin Schlichte and Yu-Sing Jung for your contributions to uphold the legacy of the Chinese American community.
